This premature publication of abridged notes from an unfinished research project is presented without pride and without apologies. All statements of fact recited herein are derived from original contemporary records that have been personally inspected by the compiler, - except where otherwise stated. (English records secured by correspondence.)

Published and manuscript genealogies, abstracts of records, and local histories were used only for the purpose of guidance to the original source material. Any errors that appear in this work are distinctively original; - and not rehashes of older mistakes.

This is the best job that can be done, in this form, at this time, for the present purpose.

Following notation by Miss Elva B. Colglazier, Austin, Texas, who help provide much of the data incorporated in this book:

"Carey's of Kansas".

book is as much or more mine than Rev. Bell's. I was disappointed when I saw the book, for several reasons. It was too much con-densed and Rev. Bell completely overlooked the fact that future generations, interested in family history, will be anxious to know the things about us that we were trying to discover about Samuel Carey, Rachel Doane and their ancestors.

For instance, Maude Carey's husband, Dr. John James Brownlee, an M.D., is recorded only as John James Brownlee. He is the only son of a Presbyterian minister, his mother was a McGregor and so on. Rev. Bell did not indicate in any way that John James Brownlee is an outstanding physician, or that his son, William Edward Brownlee is an M.D., or that Bill's twin sister, Betty, is married to a New York physician. It is the same all through the book regarding the later generations of this Carey family. I think such things should be a part of a family record, and the more the better. Emerson Carey, oldest child of Samuel and Nancy (Bundy) Carey was an outstanding man in his community and state but that is not recorded in the Carey Book. Senator Emerson Carey was a tall man, a man of distinction in appearance, as was his youngest brother, Captain Claude Carey of Uncle Sam's Army, who died some years ago. If you ever use Carey Salt "Careyized Salt" it came from the Salt Plant or Salt Mine belonging to Senator Emerson Carey, now deceased. Rev. Bell could have made this an interesting genealogy, not just a record of names and dates.

JOHN CAREY - ELIZABETH _____

This John Carey was born circa 1710 (probably not later than 1715; - and very probably in Del. or Md.) Dates of marriage of his elder children indicate that he must have been married circa 1735; - surely, no later than 1740. John buried Plumstead.
HERE ARE SOME KNOWN FACTS:
His wife, Elizabeth, was a member of the Society of Friends. He was not. Elizabeth d. 23 May, 1794 from book "Diary of John Dyer P. 56

1. - Buckingham Women's Meeting (Bucks Co., Pa.) 1749-2-3: - "Elizabeth Carey produced certificate from Guinned which was read and accepted." (Gwynned is in present Montgomery Co., Pa., - then part of Phila. Co., -)

2. - John Carey "of Plumstead Twp." leased some farm land to a person named Shrig[illegible] 1756. - Armitage Collection, Bucks Co. Hist.Soc.

1756-9-6 (Buckingham M.M.) - "John Carey, Jr. requests to be looked upon as a member of this meeting, he having a birthright by his mother; which request the meeting grants."

1757-5-2 (Buckingham M.M.) - "Thomas Carey requests to be esteemed a member of this meeting, he having a birthright by his mother, which request the meeting grants."

1759-4-2 "John Carey, Jr. and Mary Good, Jr., declared intention of marriage second time, with consent of parents. (M.-'59-4-12)
1786-1-19 m. (2nd w.) Eleanor Preston.

1760-9-14 - John Carey executed his will, which was admitted to probate nearly 32 years later, - 9 Aug. 1792! He named as heirs: -- wife, Elizabeth; sons John, Thomas, Elias, and SAMUEL; (#16, this compilation); -- daughters Elizabeth, Ann, Mary, and Hannah. This will recorded twice: Book 5, pp. 302 and 420 (Bucks Co., Pa.)
His widow's will was drawn 1793-2-3; proved 179[illegible]-12-23. - Book 5, p. 420

Will of John Carey, Jr., (bro. of # 16), dated Plumstead 1794-11-6 (proved Dec. 23, 1794); - Book 5, p. 420, names as heirs: Wife Ellen, certain friends, and bros. and sisters:

Thomas Carey, Elizabeth Banghat (Banghart), Ann Fisher, Mary Skelton, Elias Carey, and Samuel Carey.

(Elizabeth, Ann, and Samuel were not mentioned in the will of their mother. Samuel had moved from Bucks Co. 1783, as aforesaid.)

Thomas Carey, son of John and Elizabeth, married Mary Skelton "widow of Joseph, late of Solebury, - formerly Townsend", 1763-10-6. His will, dated Solebury Twp., 1806-12-24; proved 1808-12-6, names heirs: Son Thomas Carey and daughters Elizabeth Pickering and Hannah Carver; - stepdaughters, Mary White, Sarah Stradling, - and step-grand-daughter Sarah White, d. of Martha White, dec.

Mary Carey m. a Joseph Skelton (possibly stepson of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Thomas Carey, - son of Joseph Skelton, Sr., by previous marriage - ?)

SAMUEL CAREY (#16) - was born 1752-4-2, as afsd., and married RACHEL DOANE (#17) 1776-3-18. In his father's will, drawn 1760, he and brother Elias were referred to as children who were to be apprenticed at age of 14.

Previous search of Bucks Co., Pa., records (by another genealogist) led to the assumption that the John Carey family of Plumstead was related, somehow, to the family of a Sampson Cary of Bristol, Pa., who died 1739. Careful comparison of the wills, alone, should have shown the fallacy of this assumption. But, - since the statement was made (and circulated), and was generally believed by the western descendants of Samuel Carey, it has become necessary to not only trace and prove the true lineage, - but to disprove the false.

Settlement of the estate of Sampson Cary was made some few years after his death, and recorded in DEED BOOK #3 Bucks Co. ONLY heirs in America were his wife, Mary, nephew Samson Cary (s. of Wm), nephew Samuel (s. of Samuel Cary), - and children of his own Grandson, James Higgs, - who were not specifically named. Others were in various counties of southern England.

Rev. Seth Cary Genealogy
Wardebridge
John Hathaway Cary

ANOTHER ASSUMPTION that had to be disproved was the 'guess' that John Carey of Plumstead was a descendant of John Cary 'The (socalled) Pilgrim' - of Bridgewater, Mass. It is true that some of his descendants got as far west as Morris Co., N.J. by 1750; and some went from Conn. to Wyoming Valley, Pa., circa 1768, with the Susquehanna Company that invaded Northampton Co., Pa., and pretended to be within the boundaries of Litchfield Co., Conn. And, there was the published - but unproved - statement that a Dutchess Co. N.Y. Quaker Cary migrated to Pa. BUT, the most exhaustive and diligent search of land, probate, and vital records has failed to produce one shred of evidence by which anyone could connect the John Carey family of Plumstead Twp., Bucks Co., Pa., with the John Cary of Bridgewater, Mass., - or with James Cary of Charlestown, Mass.

While John Cary of Bridgewater, Mass., was an interesting character and a learned man, he was no more so than any of the many Carys and Careys who settled along the east coast before 1700. He is just more highly publicized than any of his contemporaries because there are so few Cary and Carey genealogies in print! He was NOT a Mayflower Pilgrim, in spite of the implication of the title of the Rev. Seth Cary's principal literary monument to his ancestor.

HOWEVER, the Careys of Kansas are descendants of an incorporator of the town of Plymouth, Mass., -JOHN DOANE; the owner of the first mill at Plymouth, -STEPHEN DEAN; - scions of some of the most illustrious founders of the States of Pennsylvania and New Jersey: - NICHOLAS WALN, WILLIAM CLAYTON, JOHN SIMCOCK, NICHOLAS NEWLIN, GEORGE MARIS, THOMAS FRENCH, NATHANIEL NEWLIN, and others who placed principles above considerations of personal comfort.

. The compiler is NOT a descendant of any of the Carey ancestors above name (or mentioned in this outline). He is niether obligated to any of the Careys of Hutchinson, Kansas, - nor they to him. Therefore, he feels free to make the comment that the illustrious ancestors are very well represented by worthy, public-spirited descendants in Hutchinson, Kansas; - all of them interesting people in their own right! - A.D.B.

GEORGE WILLIAMS - of Pr. George's County, Maryland

Possibly son of Richard Williams and Eleanor Stockett; - (not completely verified, 1950) born circa 1685, probably not far from Annapolis, Md. - but (possibly) in Talbot Co., Md., nr. Easton. We KNOW (from marriage record of son Richard - #58) that his name was George Williams. The names Richard and George occur in land and probate records of the areas mentioned. (Too many notes on hand to be analysed on short notice.)
- IF ANYONE IS TEMPTED TO COMPLETE THIS LINE from published records, - don't risk it! Above all, - avoid trying to connect this line of Williams with the Monmouth Co., N.J. family (related to the Bills and Reeders, some of whom did go south and west.)

THIS George Williams owned much land in Prince Geo. Co., Md., - about 1741; - and died circa 1752.
- probably before Son Richard moved to N.C.

Reason for caution: -
George Williams was a very common name all along the east coast, from early times.

MEHITABLE TWINING was a daughter of William and Elizabeth (DEAN) Twining, - also of Cape Cod.

A long chapter could be written about Daniel Doane, Jr., for he was a colorful character who resisted invasions of his personal privacy by pious snoops.

He was a farmer and carpenter. With his family, he left the Sandwich, Mass., Monthly Mtg., 1696-3-17, and traveled overland to Middletown M. Mtg., Bucks County, Pa,- then settled in Newtown Twp. He had a strong sense of private judgment on matters spiritual and intellectual. In 1711 Daniel was "disowned" for "meddling in predicting astrology." His reply is as follows (abridged, of course):-

"In as much as many - - presume to tell what is contingent to bear upon earth, either weal or woe, - WHILE THEY THEMSELVES ARE YE BITTER SOURCE, and are shut up - and become fools to ye wisdom of Egypt; and in as much as it has amused the minds of many concerning me, and "inquisitus" to see ye schemes - yet do I say that I never was inclined, much less to study, any magick art or soothing divination, or negromantic trick." (etc)

His will was drawn Oct. 4, 1731 (codicil 1742-11-9) and admitted to probate Dec. 20, 1743.

Mehitable died circa 1704. Daniel m. Mary (Yates?) 1705. Issue by 2nd marr. Saml., Mary, Thos., Sarah, and Ebenezer Doan.

368-369 - RICHARD WOODWARD - JANE ____ (same as 222)

370 & 371

BARTHOLOMEW COPPACK, "Jr." - ELINOR (ELLEN) DUNCALFE were married 1678-4-13 (family records); Intention and authorization, 1678-3-8, - Morley Mtg., Cheshire, England.

BARTHOLOMEW COPPACK (born circa 1655) died in Springfield Twp., (now Del. Co.) Pa., 1720-2-8.

He was NOT the son of "Sr." - but probably was a younger cousin. This one was of Hobberly, High Leigh England; - the other "of Saltney" - m. Margaret Yearwood "Jr." - Morley Mtg., 1678-2-3 at Richard Yearwood's. "Sr." died 1718/19 "age nr. 73", obviously too young to have been "Jr's" father! (one document, seen by compiler calls them cousins. Notes misplaced) (ONE PUBLISHED GENEALOGY MAKES THE ERROR; - so this compiler cautions against its repetition.)

Careful comparison of Bartholomew Coppack wills "Sr." - of MARPLE Twp. - and "Jr." of Springfield Twp. will reveal the facts, even without the above information.

"Our" BARTHOLOMEW COPPACK drew his will 1720-2-5; - Exrs: Wife Ellin, - bro-in-law Dan'l Williamson, and friend Evan Lewis; Heirs: - daughter MARY, wife of Richard Woodward;(184 daughter Deborah, wife of Wm. West; dau. Hannah, w. of Robt. Williamson.

James Hunt lived in Kingsessing, (west Phila.) c. 1685-3-27. He married (2) - Elizabeth Bonsall, and (3) Sarah Wildman; but daughter MARY was daughter of 1st wife, Eliza Chambers Hunt.

EVIDENCE: Benjamin Chambers (President of the Society of Free Traders, which helped in development of the Colony of Pa.) died intestate. His property passed to the children and representatives of his BROTHER, John Chambers; - BUT - the only child of James Hunt who was an heir was MARY MARSHALL, wife of Abraham Marshall!
